

PRAYER STRATEGY

Weekdays

Monday – Missionaries.

Write the name of two specific families you know and support. Pray for their children and try to remember to share any details about their families you receive in regular prayer updates in their emails or letters.

Tuesday – Teachers.

Have kids pray for their own school teacher(s). Maybe add the names of their piano teacher, Sunday school teacher, or coaches. If they didn't know what to pray, ask God to give their teachers wisdom and endurance.

Wednesday – Widows and orphans.

Pray for specific ones you know. Pray for Great-Grandma, a woman at church, and for our friend Pablo who the children's ministry supports through Compassion International.

Thursday – Those who don't know Jesus personally.

Each child has plenty of people who were school friends, neighbors, or extended family members that they hope they will get to see in heaven one day. It will make the celebration that much sweeter when you see a person or family you've been praying for come to know Christ.

Friday – Friends and Family.

List out the cousins, aunts and uncles, grandparents, and have each child pick 1-2 special friends. Especially if your extended family lives in different cities, praying for family helps kids feel more connected with people they may only get to see once a year.
